

What is the Assisted Voluntary Return (AVR) Programme?

The AVR is a return assistance programme offered to asylum seekers and migrants without a legal right to reside in Cyprus. It aims to provide assistance to those who are willing to return voluntarily to their home countries in an organised, safe and dignified manner.

As a returnee under the voluntary return Cyprus programme, you are eligible for cash assistance provided by the Return Office of the MOI to help you get started once you go back to your home country. The cash grant ranges vary between nationalities and country of origin.

AVR programme includes:

- ✓ Non-binding and individual counselling which is free of charge.
- ✓ Assistance in making a well-informed decision.
- ✓ The protection of the returnees.
- ✓ Returning home in a safe and dignified manner.
- ✓ Organisational support.
- ✓ Provision of a considerable amount of cash.

Who is eligible?

- ▶ Asylum seekers with a pending asylum application.
- ▶ People who have withdrawn their asylum application.
- ▶ People whose asylum application has been rejected.
- ▶ People whose appeal to the Administrative Court of International Protection has been rejected.
- ▶ Any migrant not registered with the Government of Cyprus and without a right to stay.

The AVR programme service will:

- ▶ explain your return options through counselling;
- ▶ help you obtain travel documents, if necessary;
- ▶ assist with travel arrangements to the final destination;
- ▶ provide any other type of pre-return assistance;
- ▶ pay for all travel expenses;
- ▶ offer assistance during departure at the airport;
- ▶ offer financial assistance, in cash, prior to departure to the country of origin.

The actual process of the AVR Programme

Step 1: Visit one of the counselling centres located in all Districts of the country, as well as the “Pournara” First Reception Centre or contact one of the return programme counsellors to discuss your options. You can also book an appointment by sending an email to returncounselling@moi.gov.cy. You can talk in-depth about the process of voluntary return and the possibilities for support that are available to you, based on your residence status and nationality. This will ensure that you make a well-informed decision.

Step 2: Fill in the declaration form, which can be provided by the counsellor or can be found on the Ministry of Interior website.

The counsellor may provide you with assistance in filling in the declaration form. At this point, it may be helpful to inform the counsellor about any medical condition, so as to be dealt with accordingly. The information provided will facilitate the process for your convenience.

Step 3: In case you encounter difficulties with your travel documents, please notify the counsellors and the AVR programme will proceed to all necessary arrangements.

Step 4: With the assistance of the counsellor, you will be informed about the flight options and the details of your journey.

Step 5: The AVR programme will cover all travel expenses and provide you with the flight confirmation, as well as practical information regarding the journey.

Step 6: On the day of the flight, a dedicated staff member/voluntary return officer will be waiting for you at the airport to assist you with check-in and help you with custom formalities. At this point, right before departure, you will receive financial assistance for the journey, in cash.

Reintegration Support

People who wish to return to their home country may be eligible to benefit from reintegration assistance as offered by one of the reintegration partners. Reintegration partners offer a variety of reintegration packages, divided into post-arrival (3 days after the travel), and post-return (up to 12 months) assistance.
